

SOCIAL AND PHILOSOPHICAL FOUNDATIONS OF EDUCATION

Enhance your degree and broaden your options by creating an individual graduate program tailored to your needs

Come to an Information Session at the Midpoint Campus Center on April 13 from 5:00 - 6:00

The Department of Educational Foundations and Leadership is pleased to offer teachers a Master of Arts in Social and Philosophical Foundations of Education at the Midpoint Campus Center in Brunswick.

Social and Philosophical Foundations of Education is an interdisciplinary graduate program designed to facilitate professional educators' developing critical, interpretative, and normative perspectives on the interrelations between schools and society. This program includes the academic disciplines of anthropology of education, history of education, comparative and international education, philosophy of education, educational policy analysis and sociology of education. Students collaborate with their advisers in selecting one or more of the above disciplines to create an individualized graduate program tailored to their needs, interests and professional aspirations.

This Master of Arts degree program adds value to the preparation and further development of quality education professionals for Ohio and elsewhere in a variety of public, alternative, for-profit, non-profit, private educational settings; and offers opportunity for further doctoral study in education. A degree in Social and Philosophical Foundations of Education enhances employability in positions that require in-depth understanding of the broader social contexts of educational policy and practice.
